FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

UNIGUEST™ EMPLOYEES VOLUNTEER AT SECOND HARVEST FOODBANK

Nashville, Tenn. (November 18, 2009) During a two day office wide volunteer effort, fifty Uniguest™ employees generously volunteered their time at Second Harvest Food Bank of Middle Tennessee, an organization created to address the increasing need for emergency food assistance.

Second Harvest Food Bank reports, nearly one million more pounds of food were distributed to their partner programs during the fiscal year 2009 than the previous fiscal year. To help manage this rising demand, Uniguest volunteers sorted, inspected, re-packaged and labeled food and other items at Second Harvest Food Bank from November 16, - 19, 2009.

"The Uniguest volunteer efforts will allow us to meet the increasing need for food assistance and quickly provide food to the more than 400 programs reliant upon us for nutritious options," said Mark Oldham President of Uniguest and Board Vice Chair for Second Harvest Food Bank of Middle Tennessee.

"The volunteer spirit of our employees combined with the expertise of Second Harvest Food Bank is a winning recipe to fight hunger," said Rosemary Kelly, Marketing Director of Uniguest. "Knowing that we are helping organizations, like Second Harvest, fight hunger right in our local communities, makes our commitment even more meaningful."

"I love doing it because I am helping the community," said Cher Day, Uniguest receptionist who was sorting through enormous bins of canned food, weeding out those products beyond the expiration. "I felt like I had really accomplished something. I plan on bringing my husband and kids back to volunteer another day so they too can feel the power of such a simply act of kindness."

Together, we can reach out to hungry family's right here in our neighborhood and get them the food they need to get through these tough times!

A Call to Action

To help fight hunger in year-round, Uniguest and Second Harvest Food Bank encourage individuals to sign up to volunteer by finding a local shelter at <http://feedingamerica.org/>.
